

Sow Seeds of Hope

Words taken from the notebook of the amazing Sue Stone (my mum)

Penny Stone

Probably gathered from friends in the Gareloch Horticulturalists, an anti-nuclear action group who, amongst other things, have planted potatoes on the grounds of Faslane Nuclear Naval base in Scotland, and taken other creative direct actions against war and in support of life.

Tune

High

Low

Sow seeds of hope wher - e - ver you go, — though some may fall on the thor - ny ground, — Sow seeds of sow seeds of hope, wher - e - ver you go,
sow seeds of hope, wher - e - ver you go,

5

T

H

L

hope wher - e - ver you go, — some of the seeds bound to grow — tal - ler than you e - ver could know, — Sow seeds of sow seeds of hope, some of the seeds bound to grow — tal - ler than you e - ver could know, —
sow seeds of hope, some of the seeds bound to grow — tal - ler than you e - ver could know, —