

Two More Minutes

From February to June, we gain about 2 minutes of sunlight every day. Definitely something worth celebrating as the light grows longer. (This increase happens in an arc, peaking at about 4 minutes, so you can check the sunrise and sunset times when you sing this and give the local time for you.)

Penny Stone, Feb 2021

Swung

High
Two more, _____ Two more min-utes e - ve - ry -

Mid
Two more, _____ Two more min-utes e - ve - ry -

Low
Two more, _____ Two more min-utes e - ve - ry -

Bassline
Two more min-utes of sun - light e - ve - ry day, ³ Two more min-utes of sun - light,

5

H
day, that's the way, _____ that's the way this world grows a lit-tle bright er, _____ Two more, _____

M
day, that's the way, _____ that's the way this world grows a lit-tle bright er, _____ Two more, _____

L
day, that's the way, _____ that's the way this world grows a lit-tle bright er, _____ Two more, _____

B
that's the way this world grows a lit-tle bright-er, that's the way, _____ Two more min-utes of sun

I suggest starting with the bassline, then bringing the other three parts in, either one at a time or all together. It also works well starting with the high, mid and low parts all at once, then bringing in the bassline later.